

Staff at the World Governing Council

Who's Who at the World Governing Council

Running the World Governing Council (WGC) requires a staff of hundreds of people, responsible for enforcing the directives handed down by the Upper Chamber. The day to day activities are managed by employees who are multi-lingual communications experts, Information Technology professionals, forensic investigators, prosecutors, judges, a legal staff with expertise in international business and treaties, military experts, intelligence professionals skilled at managing and conducting black operations, and even a team of assassins and occult practitioners. It should be noted that key personnel managing these activities are often related to or are close associates of Somerset Belenoff. The Countess has systematically staffed these departments with people who are personally loyal to her, securing her complete control over all aspects of the World Governing Council. Insiders have noted that Belenoff personally manages the succession plans for each department, with particular focus on ensuring younger staff are brought on board as more seasoned individuals approach retirement.

Prior to January, 2019 the government of Luxembourg required all organizations to publish their employee directories. The World Governing Council published their directory for several years in accordance with Luxembourg law. Due to increased public interest in the Illuminati, the law was overturned and the Wettin employee directory was removed from the internet. Fortunately, Shadow Watchers archived part of the directory prior to its removal and below we provide a partial list of key personnel, along with a brief description and where available, a photograph of the individual. This information is up-to-date as of February, 2019. As the WGC operates openly, its employees are well-known in their communities and many of the lower-level associates have talked openly with Shadow Watchers about the governing structure.

Caution! The individuals listed below for the most part are not members of what we normally think of as "The Illuminati." They are responsible for running the day to day functions of the World Governing Council but they are not policy makers. Some of them have surnames familiar to Illuminati researchers, but while they may be members of the Windsor, Mountbatten, Romanoff or Rothschild families, they are not public figures and their rights are protected by a multitude of privacy laws.

Street. The term "Cathedral" is a carry-over from a time when the cathedral was the center of governmental authority. Likewise, throughout these pages we mention Luxembourg Cathedral, or simply "Cathedral," when referring to the headquarters of the World Governing Council, but it should be noted that as the term is used today, it no longer refers to the actual Roman Catholic cathedral located in Luxembourg's capital city.

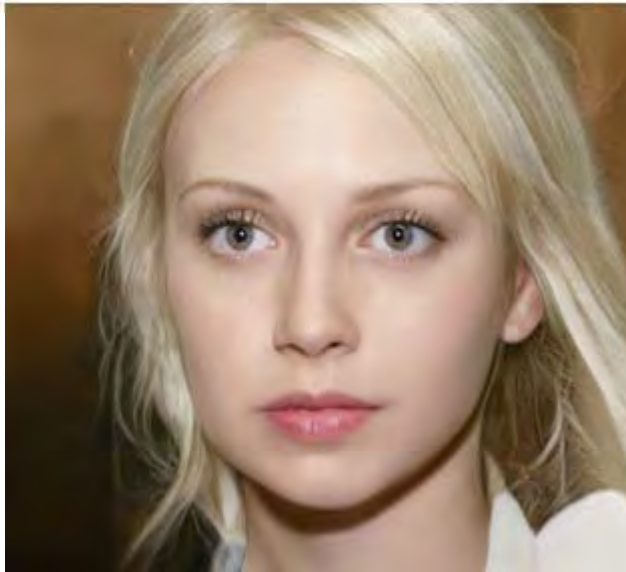

The Wettin Executive Team

Tiamet ("Tia") Marbani

Tiamet ("Tia") Marbani is Chief Technology Officer for the World Governing Council. Perhaps not coincidentally, it appears her parents named her after the ancient Sumerian deity Tiamet, Goddess (or demon) of chaos and creation. According to her Linked In profile, she is a former executive at CBRE, one of the world's largest commercial real estate firms. Marbani joined Belenoff's staff in January, 2019 with a mandate to significantly expand the Council's suite of satellite communication capabilities. According to insiders, Marbani has taken over many of the projects formerly managed by Karina Belenoff and Lord Francis Bowes-Lyon. Her bloodline stretches deep into Middle Eastern history to the time of Babylonian rulers, and she is said to have intimate knowledge of the ancient demon-gods of that era. Marbani has made significant progress on several ambitious, and possibly demonic, projects. Those projects include the ability to target, listen to and record conversations which occurred in the past; stabilizing vibrational frequencies to enable consistent communications with the Lower Astral dimensions, and expanding ethereal communications with ancient deities of the Sumerian, Babylonian and Akkadian pantheons. Marbani holds Masters of Science degrees in Structural Engineering and Condensed Matter Physics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics

Natalie Belenoff-Windsor

After being wounded in combat at an undisclosed location, she was recruited by Somerset Belenoff to develop and implement enhanced security for policy makers in the Upper Chamber. Reporting to Callum McCoinneach, she manages the day-to-day security functions for all Wettin facilities. When you read on the website GlamisCalling.Org that "The Shadow Lion is afoot," it is Miss de Rothschild who has moved the Lion into place for extra protection; this is an indication that enhanced security measure are in effect and is standard procedure during times when technical systems are being upgraded.

...about frequency, resonance, and related systems

Dr. Archibald Byrd

Stella Daniels

Stella Daniels helped develop the Lost Lullaby frequency and engineered Wettin's early systems connecting the material plane to other dimensions. Her frequency connections were effective at piercing the veil between the living and the dead but the early technology wasn't able to provide stable connectivity due to oscillating vibrational frequencies. She went insane in 2015 but continued to work on stabilization for the duration of the VibeSat program. She is widely respected at the World Governing Council for her pioneering work.

Kermit Holman

Kermit Holman is said to be a brilliant, but extremely disturbed designer of systems architecture. His work while still at university focused on building a precursor to the World Wide Web. Holman spent several years wandering aimlessly throughout the United States, earning a living as a bookmaker until he was convicted of murder and cannibalism in 2007. Court records labelled Mr. Holman a "troubled drifter", and he was sentenced to serve an indefinite term at the Trans-Allegheny Lunatic Asylum. The Asylum, which was officially closed in 1994, continued house offenders deemed too violent for ordinary prisons or standard mental health institutions. In 2016 at the request of Somerset Belenoff, he was transferred to the La Colombière psychiatric hospital in France. He was later brought to Luxembourg to work on the VibeSat program and afterward transferred to the Bedlam asylum in London to be near his colleagues.

Vanessa Payne

Vanessa Payne is said to have gone insane while working on the VibeSat program after spending too much time on the other side of the veil. She shot herself in 2018 and died at Luxembourg Cathedral. Insiders tell us she continues to work for the Wettin VibeSat team as a permanent resident of the Lower Astral. DECEASED

Druscilla de Havilland

Druscilla de Havilland is a member of the de Havilland aircraft family and is also a cousin of film actresses Olivia de Havilland and Joan Fontaine. She is an Oxford-educated scientist and aerospace engineer who spent several years working in the field of advanced propulsion systems for the Royal Air Force. She went insane in 2012 and was confined to a mental institution for 3 years until Somerset Belenoff recruited her to begin work on the development of VibeSat and Dark Horizon systems. In 2018 she pleaded guilty to charges in connection with the plot to sabotage Miss Belenoff's private jet. She was represented before the Council by Marissa Windsor St. John, who advocated leniency, urging the justices to take into consideration de Havilland's past service to the World Governing Council as well as her mental state at the time she committed her crime. Insiders say Miss de Havilland's mental condition had deteriorated to the point that she was incapable of understanding the consequences of her decisions and she was easily manipulated by the primary conspirators into providing information that allowed them to sabotage the engines on Belenoff's Gulfstream jet. In the end, with all judges in attendance, the vote was unanimous. Miss de Havilland was sentenced to the elite Hohenegg/Meilen Clinic near Zurich to be treated for an undisclosed psychiatric disorder. Insiders say the costs, which
